

Affordable explosion-proof distribution box

AI Overview

You can find affordable, certified explosion-proof distribution boxes from suppliers like Hexlonex, Inatex, SUREALL, and Intrinsically Safe Store, all offering ATEX and IECEx certified options for hazardous zones.

Recommended Suppliers

1. Hexlonex Hexlonex offers durable explosion-proof distribution boxes and electrical enclosures suitable for Zone 1 and Zone 2 hazardous areas. Their products are IECEx and ATEX certified, ensuring compliance with international safety standards, and they provide a range of sizes and configurations to fit industrial needs . 2. Inatex Inatex provides the BXM (D)8050 series and other explosion-proof distribution boxes with modular GRP construction. These boxes include pre-wired terminals, external rotary actuators for switches, and optional cable glands. Inatex emphasizes reliability and cost-effectiveness, making them a good choice for budget-conscious buyers . 3. SUREALL SUREALL manufactures a wide variety of explosion-proof boxes, including junction boxes, panelboards, and receptacles. Their products use flameproof aluminum alloy, reinforced plastic, or stainless steel housings to contain sparks and prevent explosions. SUREALL boxes are suitable for Class 1 Div 1/2, Class 2 Div 1/2, and Zones 1, 2, 21, 22, offering flexibility for different hazardous environments . 4. Intrinsically Safe Store This online store specializes in certified explosion-proof junction boxes and distribution boxes. They provide ATEX, IECEx, and UL-certified models, with guidance on sizing, conduit compatibility, and installation. Prices vary by material, size, and certification, but the store offers affordable options for indust...
