

Albanian Standard Optical Cable Manufacturer

AI Overview

Albania hosts several notable manufacturers and suppliers of optical (fiber optic) cables, including Proton Cable, Albaelettrica, and other specialized telecommunications providers.

Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

1. Proton Cable (TEOREN Group) Proton Cable is a leading Albanian company producing electric cables, wires, and compounds, with a production capacity of 800 tons per year. The company follows strict quality standards, including CE Performance Declaration and German VOE standards, and has invested in advanced technology for copper wire processing and halogen-free cable production. Proton Cable's products are widely used in electrical and telecommunications applications, including fiber optic infrastructure . 2. Albaelettrica Albaelettrica provides a range of network solutions, including optical fibers, LAN cables, phone systems, and RACK panels. The company supports businesses, public entities, and industrial networks in building and managing secure, high-speed data networks, making it a key player in fiber optic cable deployment in Albania . 3. Telecommunications Service Providers Companies like Max. Digicom, Vivo Communications, Neofone, and VOIPAlbano offer high-speed fiber optic internet services and infrastructure solutions. While primarily service providers, they often collaborate with manufacturers and may supply fiber optic cables for residential and business networks .
