

Cambodia High Voltage Cable Tray

AI Overview

High-voltage cable tray installation in Cambodia is supported by UL-certified systems and turnkey services from experienced local and regional providers, ensuring compliance with international safety standards.

Key Providers and Services

PESTEC (Cambodia) PLC offers comprehensive services for high-voltage (HV) and extra-high-voltage (EHV) systems, including the design, engineering, installation, testing, and commissioning of substations, transmission lines, and underground cables. Their turnkey capabilities cover material procurement, cable termination, jointing, and overall project management, making them suitable for large-scale infrastructure projects in Cambodia. Cat Van Loi Industrial Electrical Equipment Manufacturing JSC supplies UL-listed cable trays and accessories (NEMA BI 50015, UL 797) suitable for Cambodia's tropical climate. Their products include wire mesh cable trays, EMT steel conduits, grounding, lightning protection, and MEP hangers, ensuring durability, corrosion resistance, and compliance with international safety standards. These systems are widely used in commercial, industrial, and high-rise projects, supporting both operational efficiency and long-term safety. GV Industries in Phnom Penh manufactures and supplies metal cable trays, server racks, and enclosures, providing solutions for data centers and technical environments. Their products facilitate efficient cable management, ventilation, and accessibility, which is critical for high-voltage installations in complex facilities.
