

French telecommunications-grade fiber optic cable manufacturer

AI Overview

Key French manufacturers of telecom-grade fiber optic cables include JENOPTEC NT, ACOME Group, Tratos Group, IDIL Fibres Optiques, and Axon' Cable.

Leading Manufacturers

JENOPTEC NT is based in Buc, Yvelines, and specializes in fiber-optic and optoelectronic solutions for demanding environments. They design, manufacture, and integrate multi-fiber and hybrid cables for sectors including telecommunications, defense, industry, and medical applications. Their expertise covers the full value chain from design to deployment, including connector assembly and maintenance services, ensuring high-quality, customized fiber optic solutions for telecom networks . ACOME Group has over 90 years of experience in telecommunications infrastructure. They manufacture high-performance optical fiber cables and connectivity equipment for FTTH, long-distance, and access networks. Their Normandy plant produces optical fiber cables, and their subsidiary Idea Optical focuses on fiber management and connection systems, making ACOME a major player in French telecom-grade fiber solutions . Tratos Group provides a wide range of telecommunication cables, including fiber optic cables for indoor, outdoor, aerial, and underground applications. They supply cables compliant with international standards and offer customized designs for telecom operators, data centers, and utilities. Tratos also manufactures specialized submarine optical fiber cables for secure, high-speed transmission . IDIL Fibres Optiques is a Breton SME recognized for its expertise in fiber optic and laser technologies. They focus on the design, develop...
