

Optical Communication Equipment Manufacturing

AI Overview

Leading optical communication equipment manufacturers include Coherent Corp., Lumentum, Cisco, Sumitomo Electric, Broadcom, Fujitsu, Intel, O-Net Technologies, and Corning.

Key Global Manufacturers

Coherent Corp. (formerly II-VI Incorporated, US) Coherent Corp. is a major supplier of optical components, subsystems, and photonic solutions for telecom networks, hyperscale data centers, and AI infrastructure. The company specializes in optical communication devices, lasers, and optoelectronic components, with global R&D, manufacturing, and distribution facilities . Lumentum (US) Lumentum provides optical and photonic products, including optical transceivers, coherent optics, and diode lasers. It serves telecom, data center, and industrial markets, strengthened by its acquisition of NeoPhotonics . Cisco Systems, Inc. (US) Through its acquisition of Acacia Communications, Cisco delivers optical networking equipment, pluggable modules, and coherent optics solutions for high-speed data transmission in telecom and enterprise networks . Sumitomo Electric Industries, Ltd. (Japan) Sumitomo Electric is a leading provider of fiber optics, high-speed transceivers, and optical modules, particularly in the Asia-Pacific region. The company contributes to standardization and interoperability initiatives globally . Broadcom Inc. (US) Broadcom manufactures optical transceivers for data centers, Ethernet switching, storage networks, and AI workloads, covering 100G to 800G modules . Fujitsu Optical Components Limited (Japan) Fujitsu specializes in advanced optical transceivers, co...
