

Price List for Lighting Distribution Box Installation

AI Overview

Installing a lighting distribution box typically costs between $871 and $1,066 per circuit, with additional costs depending on the box type, labor, and site conditions.

Distribution Box Costs

The price of a distribution box varies widely based on voltage rating, amperage capacity, number of circuits, material, and safety features. Standard residential single-phase boxes are generally less expensive, while commercial or industrial three-phase boxes with advanced features like smart monitoring or weather-resistant enclosures can cost significantly more. Additional customization, such as specialized mounting or integration with building management systems, can further increase the cost .

Installation Costs

Professional installation of a lighting circuit, which includes connecting a distribution box, typically ranges from $871 to $1,066 per circuit for basic mid-range work under standard conditions . Labor costs depend on the electrician's experience, local rates, and the complexity of the installation. For example, older homes with outdated wiring or difficult access may require more time, increasing labor costs. Electricians generally charge $40 to $100 per hour, with master electricians commanding higher rates for specialized work .
