AI Overview

The price of a distribution box covering a cabinet door typically ranges from $20 to $200 or more, depending on size, material, and protection rating.

Pricing Overview

- Small plastic enclosures (e.g., 180 x 240 x 120 mm, ABS, IP65) are available for around $20–$50 and are suitable for light-duty residential or small industrial applications .
- Medium-sized plastic or polycarbonate boxes (e.g., 400 x 300 x 170 mm, IP67) designed for outdoor or harsh environments can cost $50–$100 .
- Metal distribution boxes with cabinet-style doors and IP65 protection, suitable for wall mounting and outdoor use, generally range from $80–$200, depending on dimensions and robustness .

Factors Affecting Price

- Material: Metal enclosures are more durable and weather-resistant, while plastic or ABS boxes are lighter and often cheaper .
- Size and Capacity: Larger boxes with more space for circuits, fuses, or switches cost more .
- Protection Rating (IP Rating): Higher IP ratings (IP65, IP67) for dust and water resistance increase the price .
- Additional Features: Hinged doors, key latches, mounting plates, and shock resistance (IK rating) can add to the cost
