

Reputable Estonian Fiber Optic Cable Supplier

AI Overview

Key Estonian suppliers of fiber optic cables include Hexatronic Tallinn, A-Kaabel, and Astrec Baltic, offering manufacturing, installation, and distribution services.

Major Suppliers and Manufacturers

Hexatronic Tallinn operates the largest fiber optic termination facility in the Baltic and Scandinavia, producing high-quality fiber optic products for telecom operators, military, and industrial clients. Their Tallinn facility handles assembly, quality control, and distribution across Europe, and they are ISO 9001, 14001, and 45001 certified. A-Kaabel specializes in the installation of fiber optic cables, providing services such as laying underground and overhead cables, connecting and testing networks, and maintaining data centers. They offer up to 10 years warranty on installation and focus on high-speed data networks and low-current systems. Astrec Baltic supplies fiber optic and telecommunication network infrastructure components, including multifiber cables, hybrid cables, and ribbon cables. They emphasize economically efficient solutions and training for installers, catering to both industrial and scientific applications. Other notable companies include ETK Kablo, part of ETK Group, which manufactures fiber optic and low-current cables, and DNS, an Estonian brand of structured cabling systems for networking and telecom applications.
