AI Overview

Overview of IP65 Cabinets

IP65-rated cabinets are dust-tight and protected against water jets, making them suitable for outdoor and industrial environments. They are commonly used for power distribution, control panels, and integrated city safety systems. Key features include:

- Durable construction: Steel, aluminum, or stainless steel enclosures
- Environmental protection: Resistant to dust, rain, UV, and temperature variations
- Safety features: Lockable doors, tamper-resistant hardware, and protection from electrical hazards
- Optional accessories: DIN rails, fuse blocks, thermostats, ventilation, and viewing windows

Pricing Factors

The FOB price depends on several factors:

- Material and finish: Aluminum or stainless steel cabinets cost more than ABS or mild steel enclosures
