

Selling cable trays and conduits

AI Overview

You can sell cable trays and conduit through specialized electrical distributors, overstock buyers, or online marketplaces that handle surplus electrical materials.

Selling to Distributors and Overstock Buyers

Companies like Excess Distributors Inc. purchase new electrical materials, including conduit, cable trays, fittings, and accessories. They accept inventory from construction projects, overstock, discontinued products, or business liquidations. To sell, you typically provide a list of items with photos, and the distributor will assess value based on market demand, stock levels, and product condition. Contact can be made via phone or email to initiate the process (800-429-4133 or info@excessdist.com) .

Online and Wholesale Platforms

Several online suppliers and marketplaces allow you to sell or list electrical components:

- Zoro and City Electric Supply offer extensive selections of cable trays, raceways, and conduit, and may provide trade account options for bulk sales .
- Legrand and Pro Wire and Cable provide platforms for high-quality cable trays and accessories, which can be sold in bulk or by the foot .
- Phoenix Supply Hub lists cable trays, conduit, and accessories, offering a model for selling smaller quantities or specialty items
