

Terminal Box Warranty Period

Overview

Every new terminal comes with a manufacturer's warranty plus a 20-day CloudPOS return and exchange policy. Equipment from PAX's facility. PAX will either repair or replace the products. PAX will pay expenses for shipment of repaired or replacement Products, via standard ground shipment, except for Products returned. There is a hardware warranty for up to 12 months from the date of installation. The warranty does not cover physical damages arising from:

- Damage caused by improper handling, drops, spills, accidents and any caused by excessive force, vandalism, or intentional tampering.

You can sleep well at night knowing that your new terminal is covered. Please. After all, a terminal warranty is protection against what might happen – an insurance policy for the terminals you rely on to run your business. RITE also covers shipping expenses for the first year of that warranty.
