

What to do if the front desk cabinet loses power

Overview

The desk needs to be reset by lowering it to the lowest position and holding the down button for an additional 10 seconds to re-establish its reference point. This restores full up-and-down function. Believe it or not, troubleshooting a power outage at home doesn't have to be a headache, and you can often sort it out without dragging an electrician into the mix. With a handful of practical, no-nonsense steps, you can zero in on the root of the problem, potentially get the lights back on, and. So I have a standing desk since a year or so. in the high position (of course! XD). I think the issue is with the control box as the controller doesn't seem to receive any power at all. Loss of power to one device can be easy to find, loss of power to one or more circuits can be very time consuming.
